2 About Nantes Objectif Zéro

Nantes Objectif Zéro is a "Law 1901" association whose goal is prevention, support to screening, and improvement of access to treatment of HIV, hepatitis and sexually transmitted diseases among people living in Nantes.

Its main objective: putting an end to these epidemics by 2030. There are some 700 people in Pays de la Loire who don't know that they are HIV-positive. Given that Nantes and its region account for half of all the Loire basin's HIV patients, it's reasonable to estimate that there are around 350 individuals who are untreated and therefore at risk of spreading the disease.

• Your test is negative
You are probably not infected with HIV; this result is valid unless you've taken a risk recently (less than 3 months ago).

• Your test is positive
You are probably infected with HIV, but you must take a confirmation test at a laboratory. Until your confirmation test's result comes through, avoid all condomless sexual activity and practices risking exposure to HIV without means of prevention.
